

Academic Regalia Day
&
Rededication of Keen Johnson Building
Friday, April 28, 2006
2:30 pm

Join us for the official Rededication of the Keen Johnson Building at the heart of the ECU campus

A special 100-person chorus will sing Reception after in Walnut Hall

EKU faculty and staff are encouraged to wear their full academic regalia on this very special day

The Keen Johnson building was built in 1939 as a WPA project. Originally it was the student union building at Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College. Named in honor of Keen Johnson (1896-1970), former governor and ECU regent, the Colonial Revival style building is the most notable and arguably best-loved landmark on Senators: Please post this to the ECU and campus e-mail lists.

The rededication ceremony was planned by your ECU Faculty Senate with the assistance of the ECU Centennial Committee and ECU Development Office.