Completion of A, B, and C is required: (Please be specific, but concise.)

A. Specific action requested:
(Example: To increase the number of credit hours for ABC 100 from 1 to 2.)

To create a new 24 hour certificate program in Correctional Intervention Strategies

A. 2. Effective date:
(Example: Fall 2001)

Summer 2008

A. 3. Effective date of suspended programs for currently enrolled students:
(if applicable)

B. The justification for this action:

Throughout the past year, there have been many persons interested in the department’s undergraduate online degree program that do not have sufficient college credits to qualify for admission. This certificate will provide these persons with the opportunity to participate in the online coursework, enhance their knowledge regarding effective adult correctional practice, and take a first critical step toward degree completion. Although the certificate option will also be available via traditional delivery methods, the addition of these certificates is an important strategy for promoting growth in the online program.

C. The projected cost (or savings) of this proposal is as follows:

Personnel Impact: Part-time faculty will need to be hired to offer select elective courses, but these costs can be covered with revenue generated from the program.

Operating Expenses Impact: None

Equipment/Physical Facility Needs: None

Library Resources: None
Part III. Recording Data for New, Revised, or Suspended Program

1. For a new program, provide the catalog description as being proposed.
2. For a revised program, provide the current program requirements using strikethrough for deletions and underlines for additions.
3. For a suspended program, provide the current program requirements as shown in catalog. List any options and/or minors affected by the program’s suspension.

<td>Brief program description: The 24-hour certificate consists of 18 hours of required courses and 6 hours of electives. The required courses are the same courses required for the BS degree in Correctional and Juvenile Justice Studies. Thus, persons who complete the certificates will be well on their way to completing their degrees. The electives include content that reflects the contemporary issues facing corrections and juvenile justice professionals and may also be applied toward the BS degree. The required and elective courses provide students with practical knowledge that can be used in their daily work. A description of courses is attached.</td>

<td>Brief statement of need: Throughout the past year, there have been many persons interested in the CJJS online degree programs who do not have the necessary number of college credits to qualify for admission. Professional certificates will provide these persons with the opportunity to participate in the online programs, enhance their knowledge regarding effective correctional and juvenile justice practice, and take a first critical step toward degree completion. Nationwide, there are over 27,000 custody/security employees working in federal and state correctional facilities; approximately 2,100 of these employees work in Kentucky-based facilities. The highest level of education for the majority of these employees is a high school degree. Continued increases in inmate populations, the retirement of the more experienced baby boomers, and budget constraints are creating the need for a better educated entry level staff with strong communication skills and knowledge of effective correctional interventions. The rural locations of many correctional facilities, shift work, and mandatory overtime often impede correctional staff’s ability to attend traditional college classes. Given this, online and other delivery formats are essential to the continued professionalization of the correctional workforce.</td>

<td>Job opportunities and demand: A bachelors degree is typically required for program or treatment staff within correctional institutions and for the positions of probation and parole officer. Graduates from EKUs Department of Correctional and Juvenile Justice Studies work in these positions and in higher administrative positions across the nation. The Certificate program is designed for entry level staff in custody and security positions and for those staff with the requisite experience who need higher education for promotion. In Kentucky alone, there are 5 federal prisons, 16 state facilities and 123 locally operated jail or detention facilities, all of which are predominately staffed by custodial personnel. Although the majority of students for the certificate program are likely to be drawn from Kentucky, the online format allows for a program of a national and international scope.</td>

| 9 | Distance learning plans: This certificate program will be available 100 percent online. The majority of the courses have already been developed and delivered in an online format, and the remaining courses will be developed for online by time of implementation. The Blackboard learning system is used for course delivery and assessment. Classes are offered in 8-week terms to facilitate the likelihood of course completion for the correctional workforce whose job demands can quickly change.

| 11 | Preliminary plans for collaboration: Our College of Justice & Safety has existing 2+2 agreements with KCTCS programs in law enforcement, criminal justice, fire safety, corrections, and related fields. We will collaborate with KCTCS to facilitate continued education for students who complete the Certificate and want to continue their education and pursue an Associate’s or Bachelor’s degree. |
